BATTLING NELSON LOSES TO WOLGAST

Batters the Battler Almost

Richmond Arena, Cal., Feb. 22-His face battered to a pulp, his eyes closed, his lips puffed, covered with blood and staggering helplessly about the ring Gans, was saved from a knockout in the fortieth round of his fight with Ad Wolgast when Referee Eddle Smith humane-ly stopped a most unequal contest. Nel-son, game to the very last, stood in the center of the ring, and even though he could hardly raise his hands, begged to be allowed to continue. He was led to his corner broken-hearted.

In the opposite corner of the ring the new lightweight champion of the world, Ad Wolgast of Cadillac, Mich., was lifted to the shoulders of his trainers amid the cheers of the big crowd.
Only once during the fight did Nelson have a chance—the 22nd round, when with a stinging right across the jaw he staggered his opponent. Before the round closed he dropped Wolgast in the middle of the ring with a similar blow, and three seconds were tolled before Wolgast regained his feet. The crowd prepared to leave the arena; the word went from bench to bench through the spectators that another boy had faller victim to the wonderful durability of the Dane. But in the next round Wolgast recuperated and from then on slowly, steadily, but surely, wore Nelson down.

NELSON BEWILDERED. NELSON BEWILDERED.

For 12 rounds before the finish, Nelson seemed bewildered and his blows were sent as though he held weights in his hands. From the thirtieth round Nelson could hardly see or hear, the left side of his face having lost all semblance of its former contour. He staggered and hung on. In the thirty-second round he was all but out, but survived the round.

In the thirty-eighth round, John Robinson, Nelson's manager, wanted to throw the sponge into the ring, but Abdul, the Turk, one of the seconds, tore it from his hands and threw it into the bucket. From then on, during each round, Robinson protested, on the verps of tears, that his man was beaten. When the fortleth came, Referee Smith asked Nelson if he wanted to quit, and Nelson, unable to talk, merely shock his head negatively. When thirty-seven seconds of the fortleth roundhad gone, over a darkness was beginning to crop just beginning to the property of the control of

BATTLER IS GAME.

Wolgast had outgeneraled, outboxed and all but outgamed the great Battling Nelson. After the battle Wolgast scampered out of the ring like a schoolboy and galloped through the mud. Nelson, on the other hand, was taken out on the arms of his seconds. As he was carried through the crowd he was cheered by the crowd for the remarkable grit, and gameness displayed, such as, old ring followers say, seldom has been seen in a prize ring.

The reteree made the following statement to the Associated Press:
"Wolgast fought Nelson at his own game and beat him fairly and squarely. Nelson complained at times of Wolgast butting, but I padd little heed, as it was simply a case of the Battler getting the worst of a game where both were equally guilty.
"Both men fought the same, but one

Wolgast said after the fight:
"My fight today was like a training bout. Only once did he bother me and that was in the twenty-second round. Nelson hurt me more then by butting me than anything else and I felt funny for just a few seconds. I cannot say anything as to my future plans, but an ready to give deserving lightweights a chance."

When Nelson was able to talk he said:
"I am sorry they called the fight off when they did. I think I could have stayed the 45 rounds, but have no complaint to make."

traveling in the last year that I don't think he prepared long enough for the match Nobody ever can accuse him of a dishonest act though, and I dare say he is greater in defeat than had he won from his rival.

"We watched all afternoon and long after supper time for word from out west and all of us looked for the same message he had sent us so often telling of victory. I hope he was not hurt.

"Battling would always stand up and fight until it seemed he must keel over and die. Perhaps this lesson will teach him to give up prize fighting."

CONTEST WITH WOLGAST

Baltimore, Feb. 22-Joe Gans, former lightweight champion, today issued a challenge to Ad Wolgast for a 20-round contest, to be fought anywhere the champion wishes and under any conditions he may name.

Pete Sullivan and Tommy Dawson have been matched for a 20-round go to take place at Pocatello on March 15 or 17. Dawson is a coming man and has a long string of victories to his credit. He is a strong puncher and is clever. Should Sullivan regain the form he displayed when he fought Cyclone Johnny Thompson to a standstill, the affair should be one of the best in years. Frank Armstrong, Sullivan's manager, announced that the match had been concluded Tuesday.

Provo, Feb. 22—Setting a fast pace from the very-start, the Y. M. C. A. basketball team got off first in its game with B. Y. U. tonight and was never headed. The game was played before the largest crowd of the season and the result was a complete surprise, as the Provo boys had defeated the Salt Lake five twice this season. The game was exhibition, taking the place of that of Kansas, which was cancelled. The score was 25 to 21. Christensen and Rose played star games for the B. Y. U., while the honors for the visitors, while well distributed, should be awarded to Hammond and Wilcox. Both fives used the prettiest sort of team play and the game was a revelation of inside work. The same two teams will clash at the Y. M. C. A. Saturday night next. The line-up:

ACKERMAN'S ABSENCE INJURES BIG EVENT

Who is this man Al Ackerman, the trestler, who is billed to meet Yokel at the Sait Lake theater Friday night in a wrestling match for the lightweight championship of the country? Why does not Ackerman make his appearance in Sait Lake and allow the mat followers to obtain some sort of a line on him? Just what is what all around?

It has been many moons since any athletic event in Sait Lake has been attended by so much mystery. The match was made and everything was prepared for the so-called national champion to train at the fire department. From time to time, Lake Young, the manager of Ackerman, said that as man would arrive in Sait Lake shortly. Then he disappeared. A metaphorical search warrant was got out for the missing wrestler and then came the announcement that he was training at Helper.

There is a marked apathy about the contest because of this poor management and if a crowd is to be obtained in what should be a great match, Ackerman should be produced at once.

LITTLE FELLOWS ARE LOOKING FOR MATCHES

Peanuts Sinclair has returned from Wyoming without being able to arrange the boxing contest with Kid Coffe. The proposed match is postponed indefinitely and Sinclair will now take on Young Erenborn of Denver for a 10 or 20-round bout, in the near future.

Kid Goodman of New York, who has been in the city for a week looking for a match at bantamweight, can have a go with Tommy Fitzgerald, according to Manager Dunham. The contest, if arranged, should prove fast as both of the little fellows have good reputations.

DECISION FOR ZBYSZKO NOT LIKED BY CROWD

Buffalo, N. Y., Feb. 22—Zbyszko, Polish champion wrestler, was declared winner of a finish match with John Lemm of Switzerland tonight. The referee's decision was not popular and for 10 minutes several hundred men surged around the ring yelling "robber' theff" and demanding that the match be declared no contest.

The men had wrestled an hour and forty-five minutes when Zbyszko sent his opponent through the ropes. Lemm apparently was badly injured and could not continue.

One Thousand Horses for Big Spring Races at Buena Vista

A meeting of the stockholders of the Utah Jockey club has been called for March 1, according to a telegram received by President John Condron from Richard Dwyer, the general manager. Mr. Dwyer will be present when conditions generally will be discussed. The meet is to open May 14 and will continue utill July 4.

President Condron says that there will be 1,000 horses at the meet, practically all of the animals now racing on California tracks having been booked for Sait Lake. There will also be a number of select bangtalis from Juarez and Jacksonville. The problem of stabiling is going to be bothersome, as there are but 320 stalls at the track. Mr. Condron proposes to add 220 stalls and the late arrivals will be quartered at the fair grounds, where there are about 300 stalls. This should give accommodations for all.

Fresno, Cal. Feb. 22.—Ginger Williams, a heavyweight fighter of Visalla, Cal., is dying as the result of injuries sustained during a fight here today with Kid Kennett of Bakersfield.

In the third round Williams fell to the floor from a succession of blows. He regained his feet onty to be knocked through the ropes. As he fell his head struck a protruding board. The skull was fractured at the base of the brain. Physicians declare he cannot survive. Watch the signs across from main entrance
